

Barbara Stewart's immense capacity for hard work, complete dedication to her department and campus, and willingness to do whatever it takes to bring a task to successful completion make her a deserving recipient of the Betsy Faught award.

Barbara's service to the campus began over 35 years ago working in the UCSD Payroll Office, followed by positions at SIO and in the Physics Department and IPAPS. After a short period away from campus in the early 1980's, Barbara returned in 1986 to become MSO of the Department of Sociology. Joining a department in need of strong administrative leadership, Barbara transformed Sociology's culture, building it into a department of well-trained staff with high morale.

Serving the broader campus community, Barbara has mentored colleagues and subordinates, fostered collaborative approaches to problem solving, and sought to improve the University environment for staff, students and faculty alike. She has been highly active on the campus level, serving on the Faculty Club board, as a University Hearing Officer and Fact Finder as well as countless other ABA and campus committees. Barbara has also served the UC at large as a member of the system-wide Academic Business Officers Group (ABOG).

Caring and compassionate are words that accurately describe Barbara. Her consistent level of commitment to the University has inspired others to levels of performance they otherwise might not have achieved. Always respectful of other people's opinions and concerned to work effectively as part of a team, she is never afraid to speak up and express her point of view, not willfully, but with the purposeful authority that comes from careful consideration of the issues at hand. Such courage and forthrightness are qualities we appreciate and value enormously.

Barbara's skill, dedication and courage, along with her humor and compassion, combine to make for a truly admirable business officer. She is a model for us all.

Barbara Stewart, congratulations and thank you.

Today we honor Excellence in Academic Program Management. The BETSY FAUGHT AWARD was created to honor the memory of an outstanding department manager who adeptly and skillfully managed an academic program at UCSD for more than twenty years. Betsy embodied the best characteristics of an academic manager – administrative acumen, excellent supervisory skill, dedication to her department and to the campus, and professionalism. Because of her personal attributes, skills and abilities, Betsy made the University a better place to work. Her management style has been described as “gracious leadership” - she believed that people are our most important asset and in building a community where each individual is respected and encouraged to achieve his or her potential. Betsy found the positive side of any challenge and worked toward making the University a rewarding environment for faculty, staff and students.
